DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' arguments, filed 3/29/04, have been fully considered but they are not deemed to be persuasive. Rejections and/or objections not reiterated from previous office actions are hereby withdrawn. The following rejections and/or objections are either reiterated or newly applied. They constitute the complete set presently being applied to the instant application.

PRIOR ART

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-5, 7, 10-12, 14-20, 22, 23, 25-27, 29-35, 37-46, and 49-55 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Giuliano (P/N 6,416,959); taken in view of Winzeler et al. [Science 285:901 (1999)]

Art Unit: 1631

This rejection is maintained and reiterated from the previous office action, mailed 1/14/04. Applicants have argued that yeast or fungi cells are neither taught nor suggested in Giuliano et al. In response review of the citation pointed to in Giuliano et al. in column 76, lines 45-51, clearly cites yeast cells as optional cells types for usage in the invention of Giuliano et al. thus making this argument contrary to the factual support for this rejection and non-persuasive. Applicants further argue that Winzeler et al. does not teach or suggest "image-based methods for analysis of a collection...". In response the rejection is based on the combination of Giuliano et al. with Winzeler et al. which combination does describe and clearly suggests both image based methods of analysis yeast cells as a collection and various reporter molecules etc. as instantly claimed. Applicants' arguments have not indicated what is not congenic regarding the suggested yeast cells of the reference combination nor have negated their own admission that fluorescent reporters are described in the combination of references, specifically in Giuliano et al. which as noted above suggests yeast cell imaging thus supporting this rejection.

CLAIM OBJECTIONS

Claims 6, 9, 21, 24, 36, 47, 48, and 56 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

No claim is allowed.

Art Unit: 1631

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
